Court Decision

Concerning the appeal made by [personal identifiers removed] regarding court order [identifying information removed] issued by Branch 2 of the Islamic Revolutionary Court of Sári, convicting the appellants with binding sentences for having committed an offence, namely, propagation on behalf of an organization which is anti-Islamic and contrary to Islamic law, and after evaluating the content of the file, reviewing the reports from the Information [Ministry] Office, and listening to the accused persons in relation to the propagation of organizations whose objectives are contrary to the blessed beliefs of the Islamic Republic, this court has not been convinced of a well-founded objection and has not found the procedural protocol or reasoning of the court to have been specifically flawed. Therefore, this court, based on Section A of Article 257 of the penal procedure code, denies the request for appeal and endorses the court's decision. This decision is final.
