A special edition for the introduction of Bahaim has been published in Tabríz

Monday, 24 Urdibihisht 1386 [15 May 2007]

With the aim to familiarize the high school religious and Quranic teachers; A special edition for the introduction of Bahaim has been published in Tabríz

As the “Ayandeh Roushan” [news agency] has reported, following the series of issues already published, a special edition has been published under the title of “Bahaim”, by the efforts of the teachers of Islamic studies in Tabríz [Remainder of sentence is unclear].

This special edition has 85 pages, and the Office of Islamic Studies of the [Ministry] of Education of Area Three of Tabríz was responsible for its printing and publishing; the following subjects have been analyzed and reviewed: the ideology of Azaliya and Bahaim, the nation and the Bahá'ís, the role of British and Russian colonialism in the formation and the growth of this misguided sect, the special manner in which this perverted group began to cooperate with Israel, and its support by America.

In another part of this special report, the following issues have been pointed out: the manner in which the Islamic governmental authorities deal with the Bahá'ís, the interview of Dr. Cookler Raft with Imam Khomeini regarding Bahaim, the reaction of the leaders of Islamic Iran to the interference of the government of America in regard to the arrest of the leaders of the Bahá'í traitors and spies, and the place of a misguided sect like Bahaim in the constitution; nevertheless, emphasis has been placed on the social freedom afforded these individuals in the constitution of the Islamic government of Iran, regardless of their dangerous ideology.

It is important to mention that along with this special edition, its soft copy, which contains a number of articles regarding Bahaim, has been prepared for the use of interested individuals.
